

Training on ILO standards, application and interpretation of the national labour law

Maseru

22 to 25 May 2017

My name is Limpho Ramoseeka, I have been working as a Labour Inspector since 1997 at the Ministry of Labour and Employment and currently based in the Butha Buthe District. I attended a four day workshop sponsored by ILO through the Strengthening Labour Inspection Project which was facilitated by Tharollo consultancy in labour law and Human Resource Management. The workshop has been very fulfilling in the sense that it has provided me with clarity on most of the issues that I took for granted since I deal with them on a daily basis in regards to application of the national labour law.

I have now been capacitated with skills and knowledge on application of the labour law. The provision of all the labour law statutes that we are supposed to enforce as labour inspectors. I want to that the ILO Strengthening Labour Inspections Project in Lesotho for the training, as well as providing back packs which are necessary for field work.
