United Nations Palais, Room VIII

Geneva Peace Week emphasizes that each and every person, actor and institution has a role to play in building peace and resolving conflict. It recognizes that peacebuilding occurs in many different contexts and cuts across disciplines and sectors. This year, over 70 events will take place, organized by more than 100 partners.

Interpeace will co-host two events during Geneva Peace Week.

The Opening Ceremony on November 5, will examine the key themes shaping Geneva Peace Week in 2019. It is also a major networking moment for actors working on peace and security issues in Geneva.

Attendance is free, but registration is mandatory.
